2019 60 and 30 years old vines from the special, unassuming Harrison Hill VINTAGE Vineyard work their magic once again. The lighter ruby red color looks more like Pinot Noir or Grenache than a Cabernet-dominant blend. The riveting nose showing red currants, tobacco leaf, and sous bois could be blindly mistaken for Bordeaux. There is a silky texture that effortlessly leads way to an elegant finish that does not seem to end. Impeccably balanced and oozing with personality, the 2019 Harrison Hill reconfirms why, year after year, it's one of our favorites.

“The 2018 Harrison Hill is a blend of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, and the balance Cabernet Franc all from Snipes Mountain, located west of Red Mountain. Brought up in 100% new French oak, it's never the deepest colored Cabernet out there, but it has an almost opaque hue as well as beautiful red and black currant fruits intermixed with lots of floral, cedar, and leafy herb nuances. I always love the elegance and complexity of this cuvée, and the 2018 has those qualities in spades. More medium-bodied, beautifully balanced, and lengthy, it will benefit from 2-4 years of bottle age and keep for 20 years or more.”
