

2016 This vibrant, lightly golden wine offers aromas of grapefruit, VINTAGE apples and pears, complimented by earthy notes of golden hay and wet stones. Offering hints of tropical fruit, apricots and candied lemon, the palate is enhanced with subtle barrel notes of light vanilla, eucalyptus and caramel, with a savory streusel character. This 2016 presents Chaleur Blanc's characteristic crisp acidity, with a noteworthy dense core of fruit that extends well into a lengthy finish.

VARIETAL 	WINEMAKING Whole cluster pressed, fermented in 90% French oak (60% new) and 10% stainless steel with partial native yeast, and aged 7 months on lees. 14.1% Alcohol
	VINEYARD 41.1% Sagemoor Vineyard 35.8% Boushey Vineyard 23.1% Klipsun Vineyard

ANTONIO GALLONI VINOUS OCTOBER2017

“Bright, light yellow-gold. Multidimensional nose melds aromas of stone fruits, pineapple and pear with notes of savory spices, honey and lemon grass and a Riesling-like piney quality. Compellingly fine-grained, concentrated and harmonious from the start, with a suggestion of figgy sweetness (the wine is technically bone-dry) perfectly countered by strong acidity. Finishes tactile and very long, with a suggestion of eucalyptus. Most recent vintages of this consistently superb wine have been considerably tighter early on, but this is a knockout nonetheless and has the balance for mid-term aging.”

REVIEW BY STEPHENTANZER
WWW.VINOUS.COM

2016 This vibrant, lightly golden wine offers aromas of grapefruit, VINTAGE apples and pears, complimented by earthy notes of golden hay and wet stones. Offering hints of tropical fruit, apricots and candied lemon, the palate is enhanced with subtle barrel notes of light vanilla, eucalyptus and caramel, with a savory streusel character. This 2016 presents Chaleur Blanc's characteristic crisp acidity, with a noteworthy dense core of fruit that extends well into a lengthy finish.

VARIETAL 	WINEMAKING Whole cluster pressed, fermented in 90% French oak (60% new) and 10% stainless steel with partial native yeast, and aged 7 months on lees. 14.1% Alcohol
	VINEYARD 41.1% Sagemoor Vineyard 35.8% Boushey Vineyard 23.1% Klipsun Vineyard

ANTONIO GALLONI VINOUS OCTOBER2017

“Bright, light yellow-gold. Multidimensional nose melds aromas of stone fruits, pineapple and pear with notes of savory spices, honey and lemon grass and a Riesling-like piney quality. Compellingly fine-grained, concentrated and harmonious from the start, with a suggestion of figgy sweetness (the wine is technically bone-dry) perfectly countered by strong acidity. Finishes tactile and very long, with a suggestion of eucalyptus. Most recent vintages of this consistently superb wine have been considerably tighter early on, but this is a knockout nonetheless and has the balance for mid-term aging.”

REVIEW BY STEPHENTANZER
WWW.VINOUS.COM